

Southwest metro school ratings for 2006

Here are report card ratings issued by the Oregon Department of Education. A school's overall grade is based chiefly on test scores from 2005 and 2006 (two-year average achievement below). The state also factors in attendance, improvement, whether the school tested at least 95 percent of its students and, for high schools, the dropout rate.

Schools face no consequences for their ratings.

The state rates four-year achievement trends by comparing a school's test average for 2005 and 2006 with its test average for 2003 and 2004.

Each school also got a federal rating, based largely on how well it taught special education, limited English and minority students. In contrast, the state grade reflects average schoolwide performance.
